COMMITTEE IS FORMED TO SOLICIT FUNDS FOR NEWS REVIEW LAWSUIT

A Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee has been formed as a result of the $2,000,000 libel suit filed by land developer Charles S. Bresler against the Greenbelt News Review and its president, Alfred M. Skolnik. The Committee will solicit and collect funds inside and outside of Greenbelt to assist the defendants in meeting legal and other expenses incurred in connection with the suit.

The Committee is asking that contributions be mailed or deposited to the Committee's account at Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association, 105 Centerway.

The Committee will also conduct a door-to-door campaign for funds. Individuals who wish to volunteer their services as collectors are asked by the Committee to contact any of the following numbers: 474-6468, 474-6400, 474-1529, 474-6323.

The Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt passed a resolution at its last meeting endorsing the formation of this Committee and urging that the community give the fund-raising activity its full support.

Third Annual Art Festival To Be Held On Labor Day

An important part of the Labor Day celebration will be Greenbelt's Third Annual Art Festival. The three-day art show and competition is expected to draw several hundred entries from the Washington area.

One innovation will be the inclusion of two categories for young people: youngsters under 12, and from 13 to 17. The professional and amateur adult categories will each have two divisions, one for paintings (oils and opaque media) and the other for water colors, pastels, drawings, etc. Substantial cash prizes are offered in the adult categories, with savings bonds for the younger winners. In addition to the professionally judged cash awards, merchandise certificates will be given to the most popular entries, based on a tabulation of the votes cast by the visiting public.

Frank Gettlein the art critic of the Washington Evening Star, will be the judge for the Art Festival.

Entries will be accepted on Friday evening, Sept. 2, and Saturday morning, Sept. 3, at the Greenbelt Youth Center, where the show will be held. Entry forms may be obtained at the time of entry, or ahead of time at Twin Pines or from Art Guild members. Forms are available now.

St. Hugh's Vandalized

In the early hours of July 30, rocks thrown by vandals did damage estimated at $300 to St. Hugh's school. The parish has offered a reward of $100 for information leading to an arrest.

Rocks and large chunks of broken asphalt from a city road between the school and a small building used by the Lions Club were thrown by the vandals breaking approximately 40 windows. Window shades were torn, an interior ceiling light damaged, and desks and floors were littered with broken glass.

According to school authorities, the city council has been asked several times to repair the asphalt road. It is felt that the broken paving is an invitation to potential vandals.

How much it will cost to repair the damage will not be known until the school's insurance company makes an examination of the premises.

This is the second time the school has been vandalized in the past month.

Lastner and Pristoop Withdraw Candidacies

The two Greenbelt citizens in this year's race for Prince Georges County Commissioners have both withdrawn their candidacies, it was announced in separate stories in The Washington Post last week. The withdrawal of incumbent Frank J. Lastner, who has served as a county commissioner for 12 years, came as surprise to many Greenbelters. Active in city and county politics for a quarter of a century, he seemed a permanent fixture in the political landscape. The other candidate, challenger Simon M. Pristoop, was running as an independent with the endorsement of the Democratic Forum.

Lastner's failure to get a hoped-for endorsement by the Sickles slate, and his own rejection of offers from smaller slates, left him facing the prospect of running an independent campaign. According to the Post's report, "the tremendous difficulty" of such an undertaking prompted his withdrawal and he asserted that he is "not retiring from politics." He does, however, plan to "sit on the sidelines for at least a couple of years."

Before Lastner's election to the Board of County Commissioners in 1954, he served three terms as mayor of Greenbelt and was a councilman here for 12 years. He also held board positions with GCS and GHI for many years. In 1963 and 1964 he was full-time chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.

Pristoop

Pristoop has been active in politics in the area for several years. He was chairman of the Prince Georges Citizens Planning Commission and was a member of the Home Rule Charter Committee. Citing the cost of running a campaign and the apathy of voters toward the primary election, he decided to withdraw, he said, when he realized that his own candidacy might draw votes away from the Democratic Steering Committee candidates.

Pristoop announced his withdrawal at a joint meeting last week of the Greenbelt and Springhill Lake Democratic Clubs.

Acquisition of Parkland Approved by Fed. Agency

The third agency involved in forwarding the city's acquisition of parkland under the federal open spaces program has now given its approval to the proposal to acquire the lakeside tract to extend the present Lake Park. This is the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments. Approval had already been received from the National Capital Regional Planning Council and from the MNCPPC.

The next step in the park acquisition program is the agreement of the Urban Renewal Administration of the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development to grant the requested sum of $167,575 to finance the purchase.

In the meantime, the city is going ahead with its condemnation suits of the lake property. According to last reports, one party to the suit has not yet received notification because he has been away on vacation.

Prohibition on Stray Dogs

Greenbelt residents are reminded that the city has an ordinance prohibiting stray animals from running at large. A dog warden regularly patrols the city, looking for stray animals. Residents noting such strays are requested to call the Greenbelt police, 474-5454.

WHAT GOES ON

Monday, Aug. 8, 9 a.m.—Registration for swimming, tennis, archery lessons. Youth Center.
10 a.m.—Court hearing on Charlestowne Village covenants—Upper Marlboro.
8 p.m.—City Council meeting Municipal Bldg.

M. Powell Appointed Assistant Attorney

The appointment of an assistant attorney for the city of Greenbelt was announced this week. The new appointee, who began work on August 1, is Melchior D. Powell. He will carry on various research projects and assist in the preparation of papers necessary to several legal transactions in which the city is now engaged. Although his appointment is temporary and on a part-time basis, he will probably be working nearly full-time initially.

Powell holds a B.S. degree from New Jersey State College and an M.A. in Public Administration from George Washington University. He earned his law degree at Mt. Vernon School of Law in Baltimore and is currently working on a Ph.D. at the University of Maryland. He was admitted to the Maryland bar last spring. He served as an officer in the U.S. Navy for four years.

"Days of Protest"

The Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Vietnam will take part in the Washington Area Third International Days of Protest against the War in Vietnam beginning with a rally at Dupont Circle, on Saturday, Aug. 6, at 1:30 p.m. Transportation will be furnished. Anyone wishing to attend should meet at 22 Hillside at 12 noon.

GHI-City Compromise on Greenhill Rd Assessment to Keep Greenhill Green

by Sid Kastner

A satisfactory compromise appears to have been reached between Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) and the city with respect to the Greenhill-Hillside road assessment. At Thursday night's regular board meeting of GHI, it was reported that the city would lower the original 100% assessment by half if GHI would agree to keep the south side of the road as green space.

In another committee report a preliminary survey of the parking situation in GHI courts was presented. The board also discussed the playground problem, pointed up by two members' petitions and took corrective steps in three separate cases of member non-compliance with regulations.

A motion by director James Smith was passed, to propose to the city that GHI would maintain the space on the south side of Greenhill road as open and green for a period of 15 years, in consideration of the city's abating one-half the cost of the road, which would otherwise be charged to GHI. If during this period GHI decided it must develop the area, it would reimburse the city for the cost of this tax abatement. The suggestion for this compromise arose out of a recent meeting of the joint GHI-city council coordinating committee on July 20.

Watering Ban Reduced Fire Hazard Remains

The ban in Prince Georges County on unessential water consumption - such as lawn irrigation and car washing - was partially lifted Monday, August 2. The Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission now allows unlimited use of water between 6 a.m. and noon every day, a period when other loads on the water supply are relatively light.

While the watering ban has been alleviated, the drought continues as before, and with it the associated fire hazard. Early in the afternoon on Sunday, July 31, a brush fire started - probably due to negligence - near a trail that cuts through parcel 11, the tract intended for acquisition as a city park. The Greenbelt Fire Department rushed to the scene and, dragging hoses through the woods, put out the fire. A strip of underbrush about 80 feet long had been burned, but fortunately no large trees caught fire.

A somewhat larger brush fire on Thursday, July 26, burned an area measuring about 300 by 250 feet behind the 44 court on Ridge Rd. Later in the evening the firemen were recalled to the scene by a report that the fire had rekindled.

So water you lawn if you wish, but be careful where you flip that cigarette butt.

Mayor Smith Picks Campaign Manager

Greenbelt's Mayor Edgar L. Smith, candidate for the Maryland Senate from District 1 in Prince Georges County, has named Ronald M. Dick, former Assistant to the City Manager, as his Greenbelt Campaign Manager for the coming election.

Dick, who has lived in Greenbelt since 1964, is on the professional staff of the National Association of Counties.

Voter Registration Day

A special voter registration day has been set for Tuesday August 9, at North End School (6th precinct), Center School (3rd precinct), and Springhill Lake Community House (5th precinct) from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Regular registration hours are 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. every weekday in the Election Office, County Court House, Upper Marlboro. Registration books will be closed Aug. 15 before the Sept. 9 primary. Books will be reopened after the primary, allowing for registration before the Nov. elections.

Every citizen of the United States, 21 years of age or older and without a serious criminal record is permitted to vote, providing he has been a resident of Maryland for one year and of the county for six months preceding the election. A citizen's registration may be removed if he fails to vote within five years, but re-registration is allowed.

Smith as chairman reported on a survey of GHI areas which he, director Norman Weyel and Manager Roy Breashears had made on the weekend. He suggested: (a) parking maintenance should be considered as one of the general maintenance items; (b) additional parking spaces need to be constructed, wherever there is available land, and where they will not detract from the appearance of the community; (c) a regulation should be drawn up to prohibit parking except in marked spaces, and only allowing operable vehicles to be parked; and (d) if a majority of the members in a court sign a petition to the board, assignment of parking spaces should be considered. Along with this, there would be a rental fee per member, which would go into a special fund to administer the program.

Board members received copies of these recommendations, and the matter will be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Playgrounds

The joint GHI-city meeting of July 20 also considered how to divide responsibility for the present eight playgrounds. Director Shinderman noted that a broader issue of policy was now involved - namely, should GHI deal only with these eight areas, or with all proposed new playground areas? Two petitions on the playground situation were presented. The first signed by residents of three courts on Ridge Rd. and on Hillside Rd., asked the corporation to clear and resod their areas; the second, more forcefully phrased, requested that GHI take responsibility for maintenance of any playgrounds not serviced by the city. Both of these matters were referred to the Land committee.

In separate actions, the manager was directed to terminate garage leases in two cases in which the usage did not comply with corporation requirements. A member who removed some hedge plants in order to drive his car into a common space and wash it will be billed for the cost of replacing the hedges. In still another case, a member who is persisting in keeping his trailer in his yard, will be again warned of the risk of termination of his contract, with one week to comply.

Director Nat Shinderman reported for the ad hoc committee on larger homes about a meeting held last week with the staff, architect and member families. Detailed plans were studied. One difficulty has arisen he noted, with the request of one family for a modification; the request may have to be turned down because of increased cost. Bids may be sent out by the next regular meeting to start construction.

Shinderman noted that the experience gained with this smaller undertaking led him to propose that the current committee be augmented by about four qualified, objective members of the community, to serve as a substitute for the potential homeowners in the planning of the 25 townhouses. His motion to this effect was passed.

REWARD

One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) is offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the felonious destruction of over forty (40) windows, plus window shades, venetian blinds, lamp shades, and other school equipment in St. Hugh's School during the night of Friday, July 29, 1966. Information is to be given to the Greenbelt Police Department or to St. Hugh's Rectory.

Our Neighbors

In town for a month are former Greenbelters (pioneers), Mr. and Mrs. Joe Long who now reside in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. We wish them a very pleasant stay. Mrs. Long is the News Review's Florida correspondent and keeps us posted on the many Greenbelt families residing in the Sunshine State.

Commissioner Frank J. Lastner was re-elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Counties at the group's annual meeting in New Orleans last week. He has been active in NACO affairs for over eight years.

Birthday greetings to Debbie Wagner, 3-C Crescent, who will be 17 years old.

Jonathan Abramowitz, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Abramowitz, 3-L Eastway, is attending the Meadow Brook School of Music's three-week session of master classes for highly talented students conducted by pianist Eugene Istomin, violinist Isaac Stern, and cellist Leonard Rose. Jonathan, a cellist, has studied for the last three years with Leonard Rose at the Julliard School of Music, and has been a special student of Luigi Silva at the Peabody Conservatory and of Bernard Greenhouse at the Manhattan School of Music. Next year will bring his Carnegie Recital Hall debut and a recital hour.

We're sorry to hear that Milton R. Evans, 16-V Ridge Road, is still at the National Institute of Health.

A get-well-quick to Janice Rosetti, 4 Pinecrest, who was hurt in a bicycle accident on Tuesday.

Glad to hear that Barbara Green-span, 105 Lakeside, is home from the hospital. That was good news to her parents, the Stanley Greenspans, who returned from a business- and-vacation trip to Europe to find her ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Archambo, 20-J Hillside Rd., were recent visitors at Florida's Silver Springs, where they explored the exciting mysteries of the underwater world through the famous glass-bottomed boats.

Its a baby girl for John and Mary Best, 9131 Edmonston Rd. Date of birth was July 11.

The Police Blotter

Bicycle Registration: registration is held every day between 3 and 6 p.m. Please try to limit your registration for bicycles to the hours listed above.

The police have recovered a car which had been stolen from Landover, in an abandoned gravel pit off Glenn Dale Rd. The car, a 1966 Malibu, was found completely stripped of all interior parts; parts which could not be removed were damaged. The car had been camouflaged to prevent easy discovery.

Two thefts were reported from Lakeside North apartments. In neither case were there signs of forced entry. Items stolen included loose money, personal papers, cameras, and a diamond ring.

The operator of a construction trailer at Springhill Lake reported that someone had removed his pay telephone, without authorization from the telephone company.

Other items stolen from construction sites at Boxwood and Springhill Lake include interior lighting fixtures and tools.

Officer Salvatore, the newest officer in the Dept., while on routine patrol, spotted a young man tampering with an auto and arrested him. The young man was sentenced to six months.

Several young men were found to be creating a disturbance on Research Rd. Two were apprehended and were charged with disorderly conduct.

Five autos were reported stolen during the past two weeks. All have been recovered.

A young boy entered a neighbors' house armed with a hammer. He claimed to be chasing fireflies. Upon complaint of the occupant the boy was picked up and later released to the custody of his parents.

Woman's Club News

The emblem of the General Federation of Women's Clubs has been erected at Greenbelt's Crescent Road and Southway entrances.

At the monthly board meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Charles Wainscott, plans for next fall were made, including a bazaar to be held at the Center School on Nov. 5.

Mrs. Edwin Riggs, ways and means chairman, reported the Clothesline Sale "a big success in every way."

Mrs. Edward Castaldi will serve as vice-president for the coming club year.

The first meeting this fall will be a Luau at the home of Mrs. Frank Lewis.

Political Forum Window

Posters, platforms and pictures of any and all political aspirants are being sought for mounting in the window of Twin Pines. Conceived as a service to voters who will be able to compare candidates and platforms, the window is beginning to fill up as the candidates or their supporters submit material.

Bumper stickers, leaflets, and flyers in quantity may be placed on the window sill for distribution to those who wish to take them and use them. If no printed material is available a candidate or slate may wish to prepare an information sheet for posting.

No endorsement by Twin Pines of any political candidate or party is intended. No censorship or selection is made other than an attempt to divide the available space equitably.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

The training activities of the swim team have been tightened, and workouts have been intensified, now that an adverse technical ruling has deprived Greenbelt swimmers of their victory over Summit Hill. Adjusted official score: Summit Hill 230; Greenbelt 224. Summit Hill officials refused Greenbelt's offers to reswim the event in question or the entire meet.

Refusal or not Summit Hill must swim Greenbelt at the Division Finals; hence Greenbelt's renewed efforts under grim-visaged Coach Dennis Adams. As one Greenbelt competitor put it: "We'll drown them in points next time."

Slide rule experts among our competitors are worried because an underdog Greenbelt could well outpoint their Division peers: Andrews, Summit Hill, Oxon Hill, and Rock Creek. If Greenbelt swings this, and Summit Hill reverses their six point loss to Andrews last weekend, Greenbelt swimmers would retain their first-place Division trophy. The situation is not too different from last year's three-way Division split, when Greenbelt first won its trophy with assistance from former coach Duff Marquardt.

Coach Adams will announce the team's departure schedule from the pool for the Division Finals on Saturday morning, Aug. 6, at Andrews. Mrs. Penney will contact officials for this event.

Parents whose children are interested in competitive swimming fundamentals and who have not won any swimming ribbons or medals are asked to contact Mrs. McMahon at 27-A Ridge Road, Greenbelt.

Junior Miss Pageant

Sponsors are looking for high school seniors to represent them in the Junior Miss Pageant at the Labor Day Festival. Any Greenbelt girl who is a high school senior is eligible to enter the pageant, which can lead to scholarships and valuable prizes on the state and national levels. The winner will be selected on the basis of scholarship, personal achievement, appearance, and youth fitness. Any club, organization, or business may sponsor one contestant.

The Greenbelt Jaycees and the Greenbelt Toastmasters are joint sponsors of the pageant. Organizations are asked to call Tom White (Jaycees), 474-6440, and contestants to call Jim Holbrook (Toastmasters), 345-2682.

Catholic Club News

by Diane Morthorst

The Catholic Club of Greenbelt will attend the Council picnic at Ft. Washington on Sat., Aug. 6. The club will meet at St. Hugh's at 10 a.m. Participants should contact Denise McCarthy (277-3098) or Joe Pisano (345-8856).

On Sunday, Aug. 7, the club will attend the President's Cup Regatta (rowing races on the Potomac). They will assemble at St. Hugh's at 12 noon. Call Peggy Hyland (474-5922) if interested.

On Wed. Aug. 19, the club will take a barge trip on the C & O canal. For information, call Walter Novak (474-4898).

LITTLE LEAGUERS

By Jerry Shafer

Final League Standings

The Little League Season has come to an end after a long and interesting season. The Tigers and Athletics came out on top in their respective leagues. It was a very successful season with a minimum of injuries and a lot of fine baseball played throughout the season. The World Series took place last weekend between the Tigers and the Athletics, with the D.A.V. Tigers, Coached by Lonnie Palmer, coming out on top. Two fine games were played with scores of 2 to 0 and 3 to 2. Danny Cassels of the Tigers, with 4 for 4 at bat followed by Mark Farmer, of the Athletics, with 4 for 6, were the outstanding batters. Each team made several fine defensive plays, which makes it hard to single out any one player from either team. Our hats are off to all the graduating 12-year-olds, and also to the oncoming Minor Leaguers who finished off with a watermelon feed last Saturday.

have been hit with a

$2 MILLION LIBEL SUIT

We citizens of Greenbelt will stand neither idle nor passive during this attack on the Greenbelt News Review, which has served us faithfully through the years by keeping us fully informed on matters vitally affecting our welfare.

We support our newspaper in its right and obligation to report the news accurately and fairly.

A Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee has been formed for the purpose of receiving contributions from all interested persons, organizations, corporations, foundations, etc., in order to assist the Greenbelt News Review and its president Alfred M. Skolnik in meeting legal and other fees and expenses.

Your contribution will assure a free press in Greenbelt.

Checks should be made payable to the Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee and mailed to or left at the Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association Office. Cash contributions may also be left at Twin Pines for deposit to the Committee's Account.

Volunteer collectors will also be needed to conduct a house-to-house fund drive. Please call any of the following numbers 474-6468; 474-6400; 474-1529; or 474-6323.

City Notes

A Circuit Court hearing on the city's suit against developer Charles Bresler for allegedly violating the covenants on the Charlestowne Village tract has been scheduled for 10 a.m. on Monday, August 8, in Upper Marlboro. To be heard will be two demurrers - one on an injunction, another on specific performance on a gift of park land. This will not be a trial on the merits of the case. Although no public comment is permissible at such a meeting, interested citizens may attend the hearing.

Surveyors have been at work this week setting marker posts to establish the boundaries of the Center School property. The best guess is that this signals the start of activity on the construction of the new Greenbelt library.

Six new mercury vapor lamps are now in working order at the intersection of Kenilworth and Greenbelt Rd. Installed by the State Roads Commission, they were requested by the city of Greenbelt through the assistance of county commissioner Frank Lastner.

The Public Works Dept. has hired a new employee, Richard Street, a teacher in the public schools, who will work this summer as supervisor of the special supplementary crew of high school students. This week they have been engaged in paving with asphalt those areas in the tot lots and playgrounds which receive the most wear, such as beneath the ends of slides and under swings. So far they have worked in A block at the top of Ridge and Crescent, at the playground near Westway, and at the one behind the apartment buildings on Crescent.

The streets in Boxwood Village are now within sight of completion. The final portion of Hedgewood Drive and all of Julian Ct. have received their base pavement. Lastner Lane has also been paved up to but not including the intersection with Ridge. Delay on this final section awaits completion of curbing, sidewalks, and gutters. Paving of all these streets is being done by the developer of the last group of houses in the subdivision.

In the meantime, the city's part of the job—the paving of Ridge extended to Lastner Lane—has been finished except for the shoulders. The extension of Ridge is being paved to the width of two lanes, about 24 feet wide. Following a policy established by the county, the city does not charge adjacent property owners for this paving. However, future developers of lots along this road must carry the expense of widening the pavement by an additional eight feet and of putting in curbing, sidewalks, and gutters. In the case of the house at the corner of Lastner Lane and Ridge, this is already being done by the developer. The city has been informed that the owner of 10 lots along the length of Ridge has agreed to this arrangement as well.

The city's contract with Reliable Construction Co., which is paving Ridge extended, calls for sodding along the sides of the road. This work has been postponed, city manager James Giese says, until there is a break in the weather. Original plans called for the city to water the new sod, but the WSSC ban on the use of outside water during the current drought made postponement advisable.

The connection between Greenhill and Hillside is now open to traffic, although it has not yet received its final coat of pavement. This may be delayed until the necessary sewer connections for the projected GHI house on Hillside have been excavated.

"An impressive array of talent" was the way Giese described the participants in a conference of city managers, called last week by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Present besides Humphrey, were four cabinet officers and many other high ranking officials of the administration.

Giese took advantage of the question-and-answer session at a meeting with representatives from the Late Mr. Birdseye

Fred Birdseye

The community and his many friends are mourning the passing of long time resident, Fred Birdseye, who died on July 24 after a long illness. Birdseye, well known in Greenbelt for his keen interest in civic affairs, served in the following capacities: Scout Master, Greenbelt troop 202; Honorary member of Greenbelt Lions Club; member of Greenbelt Recreation Advisory Board; Justice of Peace for Prince Georges County. He was a member of the Greenbelt Community Church, where he served as usher and counting steward.

Birdseye was the son of the late Colonel Claude Hale Birdseye, well-known engineer who served as president of American Geographers.

Birdseye is survived by his wife, Ruth, 9-F Laurel Hill Rd.; his son, Joel S. Birdseye, U.S. Coast Guard, Charleston, S.C.; granddaughter, Barbara Ann; his mother, Grace Whitney Birdseye; a sister, Florence Schweigart and a brother, Charles W. Birdseye.

Powell To Speak At Church

Kenneth Powell will be the speaker this week at the Greenbelt Community Church. Mr. Powell who has been the church's Youth Advisor for a year, will continue in the post during the coming year.

Circulation Manager Resigns

Carolyn Bailey resigns her position this week as Circulation Manager for the Greenbelt News Review. Her husband has accepted a position as Instructor in American University's Department of Economics this fall.

Mrs. Bailey took over circulation of the paper a year and a half ago from Victor Fisher.

Evelyn Simonson, 8-C Ridge Rd. (474-9349), with the support of her family, will take over this week as the new Circulation Manager. Mrs. Simonson will supervise the distribution of the papers to the boys who deliver house-to-house.

HEW to inquire into the possibilities for federal support in the acquisition of sanitary landfill. Although there are not federal assistance programs, he was told, surplus federal land could be made available to municipalities for such purposes at no cost to the cities concerned.

RETAIL OPPORTUNITIES FULL AND PART TIME

It is not too early for Fall planning. We have a few positions now open and will have many full and part-time openings after Labor Day. There will be a variety of positions with hours to suit your needs. This is your chance to join this progressive department store chain, and enjoy pleasant working conditions, immediate employee discounts and many other benefits. Don't delay.
